Dr. H. C. Burleigh
Bath, Ontario

Dear Doctor:

It may take me about the next fifteen years to sort out, collate and write up all the wonderful Dulmage-Galloway material I gleaned during my seven-weeks absence from here. I had a highly productive quest in Prince Edward County, at the Ottawa Archives, in St. Lawrence County and of course in Leeds & Grenville Counties. While there are still many loose ends--possibly more than I started with--that is the usual thing in genealogy.

Your Galloway clue from Sorel provided an important missing link, and another group of links was provided by the Surrogate's files in Canton, seat of St. Lawrence County, New York.

It looks as if Benjamin and Martha Galloway in the Sorel parish records were, if not actually Loyalists, indifferent to the American cause. A Benjamin--whom I take to be the same--showed up in St. Lawrence County ca1808 and for a time was active in land transactions in the Towns of Madrid and Lisbon, to the NE of Ogdensburg and perhaps only a mile back from the river.

It is apparent that he had six children, as shown on the enclosure. The omission of his Margaret's to be married to her lover, James King, produced not only a U.S. Senator and Congressman and Postmaster and Collector of the Port of New York, Hon. Preston King (1806-1865), but Preston's omission to make a will produced a set of documents almost beyond compare in genealogical annals.

While his fortune even for those days was of modest dimensions, it was large enough to set the poor relations to licking their chops. Preston's old aunt, Mrs. Martha (Galloway) Galloway (1781-1866), had made a home of sorts for him, and she led the pack of hungry relatives.

No one knew what had become of old Uncle Benjamin, and Aunt Polly (Galloway) Salisbury was dead out in Michigan somewhere, and Aunt Sarah (Galloway) Dulmage had left a houseful of adult children and grandchildren all over the North Country, and Aunt Nanacy (Galloway) Van Camp had left seven surviving children. Poor Preston, who had been intermittently insane long before his suicide from the ferryboat, left a net $25,000. or so for his first and second and third cousins to quarrel over.

It took about six years to get all the legal, genealogical and financial questions resolved, and by then more deaths had further depleted the family circle, so that ultimately some "heirs" were entitled to only 1/240 of the whole.

October 2, 1966

The distinction between Galloway and Gallaway was drawn and then insisted upon by the late Dan S. Giffin, Esquire, of Ogdensburg, who was one of the lesser heirs himself. I have not found it corroborated in the court files but it may hold some significance for us.

At least as early as 1770, there were Galloways in the Presbyterian Church at Good Will, Orange County, New York--this would be in the general area of Newburgh and West Point. An unnamed son of John Galloway was buried there 1770; another son, George, was baptized 9-29-1771. Mary Galloway 4-17-1813 m. Henry Brars at the Good Will Church.

A James and a John Galloway were in the New York (rebel) troops during the Revolution, Orange and Ulster Counties: see New York in the Revolution, 2nd edition, pp. 21, ~~xxx~~ 65, 192, 253.

A George Galloway in 1748 witnessed the will of James Kerr in the Scotch-Irish Presbytertain community of Paxton Township (near Harrisburg), in what was then Lancaster County: Lancaster Co. Will Book J-1, p. 116.

A John Galloway who d. Brunswick County, North Carolina, 1795, m. Sarah Bell and had 5 ch: Nathaniel; Alfred; Cornelius; Mary; Amelia. National Historical Magazine, vol. 75, no. 2, Feb. 1941, p. 58. (Probably the same as the one in DAR Lineage Book vol. 75, p. 58)

Another John Galloway fl. 1809 Mercer Co., Kentucky--veteran of the Revolution.

According to the 1790 federal census (New York Heads of Families) there were Galloways: + Alexander, Orange Co.

James, Montgomery Co.

James, New York City and county

James, ditto

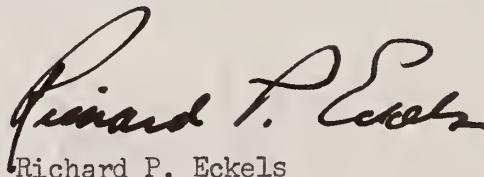

+ James, Orange County

John, New York City and county

Mary, Albany Co.

Thus, to get them unscrambled is about like seeking that lost needle in the haystack.

Cordially yours,

Richard P. Eckels

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

A letter from Colonel Strome
Galloway in Germany told us of your interest in the Galloway family.

My husband has his Galloway line eight generations back. His earliest known ancestor being John Galloway of Brunswick County, North Carolina. His wife was Sarah Bell and his Will was Probated in 1798 giving the names of his five children. The names of the children follow with their dates of birth from the old family
Bible:

Nathaniel, born June 12, 1770, died December 7, 1834, married March 22, 1787,
Charlotte Gause,

Alfred, born May 5, 1775,

Cornelius, born June 20, 1777, married
Ann Betts,

Mary, born October 30, 1778,

Amelia, born February 7, 1781, married
John Swain.

Do you have any data on the Maryland or North Carolina Galloways? We would be glad to exchange information. We are particularly interested in information concerning the family between 1685 and 1790.

Thanking you for your assistance,

I am

Sincerely,

Kathleen H. Galloway

Catherine 21.1.1858 - 98 (b1760)

George Galloway

A. Howard J. Durie - letter 15 June 1971

The New York Will Abstracts show that a George Galloway was one of the witnesses, together with Thomas Coultrough and David Jones, to the will of Henry Livingston which was executed and dated February 5, 1772 at the Parish of St. Mary's, Island of Jamaica, proved there on September 21st following, and confirmed in New York August 6, 1774. The witnesses must have been residents of Jamaica.

I also see that George Galloway verified the property of Philip Roblin, late of Smith's Cove, Orange County, N.Y., according to the Ontario Archives.
